PRIZE BOOKS FOR SUBSCRIBERS.

The Weekly Journal's Clubbing Arrangement with the Cincinnati Weekly Commercial.

Having made arrangements to club the WEEKLY JOURNAL with the Cincinnati Weekly Commercial, we announce that we will furnish the WEEKLY JOURNAL and the Cincinnati Weekly Commercial, a large 8-page, 56-column family newspaper, printed from large, clear new type, and furnishes more reading matter for the money than any other newspaper in the county, the issue of each week containing over twenty-two square feet of printed matter, and is not surpassed for news, business reports, literary and select reading, one year for $3 50, and will give as a free prize to each yearly subscriber under this clubbing arrangement any one book he may select from the following famous works—Tennyson's Poems; The Arabian Nights; The Narrative of the Jeannette Arctic Expedition, by Lieut. Danenhower; The Mill on the Floss, by George Eliot; Wood's Natural History for Boys, (300 illustrations); East Lynne, by Mrs. Henry Wood; Vennor's Almanac for 1883; The Swiss Family Robinson; A Treatise on the Horse and His Diseases, by Dr. B. J. Kendall; The Woman in White, by Wilkie Collins; History of the Kingdom of Ireland; Waverley, by Sir Walter Scott; A Brave Lady, by Miss Mulock; The Bible Dictionary; Lady Audley's Secret, by Miss Braddon.

It will be noticed that our selection of prizes covers an extraordinary range and variety of the brightest and best books.

Free specimen copies of the Cincinnati Weekly Commercial may be obtained by addressing M. Halstead & Co., Proprietors Commercial, Cincinnati, Ohio, and free specimen copies of the JOURNAL can be obtained by addressing C. C. Powning, Proprietor JOURNAL, Reno, Nevada.

Send postal card asking for specimen copies.

Cash System! Cash System!

Since my first announcement that I proposed to place my business on a cash basis on Jan. 1st, I have received much encouragement from many of my customers. They appreciate the fact that it is a fair system, as all pay cash or its equivalent; they do not, as under the credit system, have charged to them the loss suffered by some debtor who has "skipped" his account, and frequently the country. Also the cash system has harmonious influences, there being fewer circumstances to create difficulties between the dealer and his customers, such as dunning, refusal of credit, suing, etc. I have in reserve a good proof that it pays to buy for cash. It is a price list, which will be out January 1, 1883. Send or call for one.

Respectfully,
JERRY SCHOOLING.

Five Job Work.

The JOURNAL job office has just received a large and fine stock of paper, cards, rags, etc., for job printing and is prepared to take orders for every description of work in the printing line. Only skilled workmen are employed in the job room and no inferior work is allowed to leave the office. Compensating prices are charged for every job and satisfaction guaranteed. Call and examine our specimens and leave your orders.

A New Fee Bill.
Speaker Varian has introduced a bill to regulate fees and compensation for official and other services in the State of Nevada. It relates to the fees of Clerk of the Supreme Court, County Clerks and Recorders, only. It does not refer to the Salary Act, but simply prescribes the fees which shall be charged for specified services by the officers named. It is generally conceded that the fees charged by Clerks of the Courts and County Recorders are too outrageously high, and the object of the bill is to reduce them. The exorbitant fees allowed county officers led to the passage of the Salary Act, but that does not entirely relieve the public, as the full amount is collected by Clerks and Recorders since that act went into force, while before its passage the officers frequently made deductions from the fees allowed by law which they admitted were too high for the services rendered. Years ago, when money was much more plenty in Nevada than it is to-day, Recorders, of their own volition, reduced the fees for recording an ordinary mining deed to $2 50. Since the Salary Act went into force, the cost of recording a similar instrument has been $3 50, as the law requires the officer to collect the full amount allowed for such service. The bill makes material reductions in court and other fees, and as it does not affect the officers, who are now paid a stipulated salary, it will probably become a law without opposition.

A Mistaken Critic.
EDITOR JOURNAL:—By the publication of an editorial in the Enterprise of the 13th inst. reflecting on Speaker Varian's knowledge of "Constitutional law," the legal editor of that paper shows his astounding ignorance of the subject upon which he attempts to write. No lawyer in any State will claim for a moment that a will or deed between private individuals, or any other instrument of that character, is one of the "public acts, records and judicial proceedings" referred to in Article IV., Section 1, of the Constitution of the United States. A lawyer having read the article in the Enterprise referred to would involuntarily utter the expression, "Oh Fshaw!" Mr. Varian so far from being mistaken in the matter, showed his thorough knowledge of the subject and his willingness to bring his professional learning to the assistance of good legislation. Lex.

A Peculiar Find.
The Tuscarora Times-Review is our authority for the following: On the hills near the Navajo is found a very curious deposit, apparently hundreds of feet in extent. It is a white substance resembling marl, but when mixed with water makes a superior article of whitewash. It hardens immediately, is pure white, leaves a good coating and will not rub off like ordinary wash made of lime. It makes a beautiful finish. An experiment with the material was tried on the ceiling of Cockbin's barber shop, where it can be seen. It has also from assays shown from two to three dollars in silver.

The Black Hills
New discoveries are being continually made of rich veins of ore in the Black Hills; that this country is one of the richest in America. Its unlimited supply of low-grade free-milling gold ore has enabled one company to erect as fine a plant as any in the Union, and pay $1,512,500 in dividends within four years. There are over 800 stamps busy all the year round, stamping out the yellow wealth, while smelters are busy turning out large quantities of silver bullion. All the Black Hills need is a railroad connection with the outside world.

The Ogden Pilot endorses Frank Bell for Warden. It says: "The responsible position of Warden of the Nevada State Prison is to be filled by the Legislature now in session. There are many aspirants, and among them Frank Bell, of Reno, who for many years was Superintendent of the Nevada Division of the Western Union Telegraph Company. If we had a vote to give in the contest it would be for Mr. Bell, who is a most worthy and capable man. He would honor the position and the people by his selection."

In the United States Senate, last Friday, Senator Jones favored the bill for the relief of Ben Holliday. The money to be appropriated is to remunerate Holliday for certain expenditures made for the Government while he was a mail contractor on the plains before the railroad was built.

Joshua F. Parson has been nominated by President Arthur for Postmaster at Tuscarora, Nevada.

THE IDAHO CAVE.
The wonders of our new country are constantly developing. There are thousands of square miles, not yet explored, that may turn out a more wonderful cataract than Niagara, in the near future. The Mammoth Cave of Kentucky was the champion wonder for a century, but it was eclipsed by the discovery of the Luray Caverns in Virginia. Now we have a more wonderful wonder still, just discovered by a grouse hunter in Idaho Territory. While intent upon game he encountered a curious cleft in the side of a granite cliff, and making several torches out of the splinters of a pitch pine log near it, he with true Yankee enterprise determined to explore it. The passage leading to the interior was long, narrow and crooked, but soon he had no need for his torches, for in the center of a large apartment was the image of a man, made apparently of silver, and from its mouth issued a flame of gas! The image wore a helmet, from which sprang three imitation plumes in metal that seemed to be either gold or copper. The hunter's inference was that the original discoverers of the cave had found a natural gas jet and fitted the image to it. The apartment was decorated with hieroglyphics and furnished with a stone tomahawk, cross-bow, some arrow heads, a petrified human hand and a skeleton nine feet high. Of course, we believe all this; just as we believe the wonderful stories of Alladin or in Sinbad the Sailor, whose discoveries were more wonderful still. May it not be probable that "the image of a man from whose mouth issued a flame of gas," was an electrical phenomenon, sighted to elucidate the problem of how to illuminate the universe and turn darkness into daylight? The most extraordinary part of the story, however, is that the hunter did not carry off the "silver man" with his "plumes of gold," as so much plunder, just as Alladin carried off his pockets full of diamonds from the cave when he discovered the wonderful lamp. The statement that the Idaho hunter left these treasures as he found them, gives a fictitious character to the narrative, and will induce most persons to consider it a trumped-up affair, entirely unworthy of credence.

PENSION CLAIM AGENT.
Commissioner Dudley has written the following letter to a gentleman who wrote asking whether there was any real necessity for employing pension attorneys, and for a brief statement of the methods used by dishonest attorneys to swindle soldiers:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, December 19, 1892.
DEAR SIR:—Your communication of the 14th inst. is at hand? You ask me two questions: First, "Is it absolutely necessary that an honest claimant for a pension should be represented by an agent?" and second, "What are the principal devices by which dishonest agents fleece soldiers?" In response to the first question I should say that Sec. 4,743 of the Revised Statutes provides that the Commissioner of Pensions, on application being made to him in person or by letter by any claimant or applicant for pension, bounty land, or any other allowance required by law to be adjusted or paid by the Pension office, shall furnish to such person, free of all expense, all such printed instructions and forms as may be necessary in establishing and obtaining said claim. I hand you herewith a copy of the pamphlet of laws and instructions issued in conformity with said law, and sent out on application or freely distributed on call. When the claim, properly filled up and executed, is filed, the receipt is acknowledged, the number of the claim given, and claimant notified that the same will be taken up in its order. At the same time an extract of said pamphlet is forwarded containing full and complete instruction. Necessarily considerable delay occurs between the time of filing the claim and its being taken up in its order, which delay the claimant is advised to employ in procuring the necessary evidence. When the case is reached and it is taken up, if the evidence is all in and sufficient the claim is settled at once. Otherwise the claimant is called upon for the particular kind of evidence required, and the circular calls are so worded that they can not be misinterpreted or misunderstood by any one. The evidence of record is obtained by the office direct, as is also the medical examination by the medical boards in different parts of the country. I will only add that the services of an agent are most useful to the claimant when he devotes himself to the preparation of the required evidence immediately upon the filing of the claim or before. An agent well posted in the law and the requirements of this office can thus anticipate the call of the office and greatly shorten the time consumed in the adjudication of the claim, as well as save the office much labor. As to the absolute necessity of the intervention of an agent, each must judge for himself.

In response to your second question, I would say that the criminal files of this office show so many and various prosecutions against dishonest agents that I should be unable to classify and enumerate the different violations of law and the devices used in defrauding pensioners within the limits of such a communication as this, but the principal violations consist in the collection, under such guise or upon some pretext or another, of more than the fee allowed by law, the enforced collection of so called "expense fees" or "postage fees" in advance, addressing the calls of this office for medical examinations or other evidence by "O. O. D." packages, the collection of fees in advance and the abandonment of the claims as soon as the fee is received, advertisements holding out inducements not warranted by law, by which honest soldiers are led to prefer baseless claims, the only advantage in such cases being that which accrues to the agent, who gets a fee.

Such facts are principally predatory upon the claimant rather than upon the Government, but are just as meretricious and blameworthy.

Very respectfully,
W. W. DUDLEY,
Commissioner.

Senator Windom is by no means certain of a re-election from Minnesota. The Republican Senatorial caucus has nominated him by sixty-one votes, to one for Governor Davis and one for Gordon E. Cole. Fifty Republicans stayed out of the caucus. Windom's friends claim that twelve more will vote for him in the Legislature, making seventy-three votes. It will take seventy-six to elect. The opposition have not yet united on a candidate, claiming that they are for any one to beat Windom.

For the current year it is estimated that the lighting of public places in Paris will cost the city government the sum of $1,000,000. In the streets there are 43,089 gas lamps and 420 lamps that burn oil, while in the various public buildings 25,000 jets of gas are used. The petroleum lamps are said to cost about 50 per cent. more than the gas.

One of the wealthiest of the United States Senators is George H. Pendleton. It would take at least $100,000 a year to maintain his several places of residence his large city mansion in Cincinnati, his cottage at Conway, N. H., and his villa at Mt. Desert, Maine.

The large number of persons who attain the age of 100 years nowadays is an indication that we know how to live better than our ancestors did. The average man and woman takes better care of him and herself than was the case years ago.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always gives perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25c. a box everywhere.

Farmers and others desiring a gentle, lucrative agency business, by which $6 to $20 a day can be earned, send address at once on postal, to H. O. Wilkinson & Co., 195 and 197 Fulton St., New York.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

BREVITIES.

Capt. A. D. Griffin is in town.
Martin says he has twelve or fifteen houses to rent.

The Franktown water suits have all been dismissed.

The Antelope mill has been shut down for the winter.

Geo. W. Baker and wife came in from Eureka Sunday evening.

Col. W. S. Wood was a passenger for the Bay Sunday evening.

Mace and Slade passed through East yesterday morning.

The U. S. Circuit Court will be in session at Carson to-day.

Wm. Steele and Henry Whistler were up from the Meadows yesterday.

W. H. Joy is the latest Washoe county candidate for Warden of the State Prison.

Tule Frank came in from Winnemucca Valley especially to see how farming was carried on in North Carolina.

Jas. H. Love, representing Gustave Frohman, came up from the Bay yesterday morning to meet and take charge at Reno of the Esmeralda troupe.

Major W. H. H. Wasson, formerly in charge of Indian affairs, but now a resident of Washington, D. C., was a passenger on last night's west-bound overland.

John Body and Chas. Foster were sent to jail yesterday by Justice Young for 10 days, the first named for disturbing the peace and the second for vagrancy.

The Carson correspondent of the Virginia Chronicle intimates that State Senator Hobart is to succeed General Davis as U. S. Surveyor General. The Journal is not inclined to take any stock in the rumor.

An elegantly made and rich quilt vest chain, made to order for $87, nearly new, just the thing for a present to a friend, will be sold for $54, at Uncle Harris', 221 Kearny Street, between Bush and Sutter.

The chances are that the visit of the Legislators to Reno will result in an attempt on the part of the Journal to remove the State Capital thereto.—Carson Tribune.

Reno does not want the Capitol building.

Messrs. B. F. Leete and H. H. Beck are highly commended by many citizens of Reno for their activity in trying to secure a more economical administration of State and county affairs, by suitable Constitutional amendments, etc.—Carson Index.

The distressing fact is promulgated by those who have consulted the proper authorities, almanacs or prayer-books, that Lent comes early this year, Ash Wednesday falling on the 7th of February.

The Carson correspondent of the San Francisco Bulletin says "the best looking man in either House is the Hon. C. S. Varian, Speaker of the Assembly, and the homeliest is Senator Rockhill, of White Pine, who is said by his numerous friends to be a diamond of great value, in the rough."

San Francisco Meat Market.

Following are the rates for whole carcases from slaughterers to dealers:

Beef—Prime, 9@10c; medium grades, 7½@8c; inferior, 5½@6½c per lb.

Veal—Large calves, 8@9c; small ones, 9c to 10c per lb.

Mutton—Wethers are quotable at 5½@6c and ewes at 5@5½c per lb., according to quality.

Lamb—Quotable at 6½@7c per lb.

Pork—Live hogs, 6½@6¾c for hard and 5½c to 6½c for soft; dressed, 9½@9¾c per lb for hard gem hogs.

Home Music.

At a late Virginia City dancing party all the music played was arranged by Professor John P. Meder, of Carson, Professor Meder, though a Nevada-reared young man, is rapidly gaining a reputation for being one of the most skillful arrangers of music in the State, and as a composer has probably no superior on the coast.

Sparkling Eyes.

Rosy cheeks and clear complexion only accompany good health. Parker's Ginger Tonic better than anything, makes pure, rich blood and brings health, joyous spirits, strength and beauty. Ladies try it.—[Bazaar.

Asylum Contracts.

A Lindley secured the Asylum contract for the six months ending July 1st. His bid was the lowest. Chas. Ziegler got the contract at ten cents per pound.

The purity and elegant perfume of Parker's Hair Balsam explains the popularity of this reliable restorative.

AN ASTORIAN'S ANTICS.

Love, Courtship and Trouble of a Buxom Barber—Flying Razors.

[Portland Sunday Mercury.]

ASTORIA, Jan. 4, 1883.

EDITOR SUNDAY MERCURY:—This is a letter from Reno, Nevada, which some of our citizens would like to have published in your paper:

ALEX.

RENO, Nev., Dec. 23, 1882.

FRIEND T. G.:—I wish to communicate to you a little story under the above heading which concerns one or more of your fellow citizens. My story commences with the big ship Columbia. When she landed in Astoria in the fore part of last month, she brought with her a passenger from Arizona, a gushing young widow who had lost one of her many husbands about seven days prior to her debut in Astoria. She was supposed, by those who knew no better, to be very wealthy. She remarried in Astoria while the Columbia went to Portland and returned, and then took passage to San Francisco. About the time she was going aboard the steamer, one of your knights of the razor, by name of W. B. Day, layed his eyes on her lovely form, which caused a thrill of love to run through his manly bosom. Now, this knight of the razor had a big brother-in-law, and this big brother-in-law had a wife that was somewhat related to the aforeaid knight of the razor. These three conspirators held a hurried counsel, and decided that one little wife was not sufficient for a man of his caliber, and that he must take unto himself this gushing young widow that had so recently lost one of her husbands. The wooing commenced at once, the trio taking an active part. The ship lay at the dock some eighteen or twenty hours, which gave ample time for numerous letters, presents, etc., to be carried back and forth by the big relative, defrauding the Government of the usual postage. Among the presents received by the widow was a ten-dollar note, which proved to be genuine. Under cover of darkness this bold knight boarded the good ship and fought his way manfully to the steerage to the side of his lady love, and poured out his passion in accents that would have touched the heart of a wheelbarrow. This continued until the Captain appeared on the scene, when he fired a broadside which took effect somewhere aft on the knight's main stronghold, carrying away his main and mizzen masts, jib-boom and some of the other rigging, and at the same time fired him off the ship, just the same as if he was no shareholder in a big cannery, which he claimed to be to the widow. The widow finally escaped to San Francisco, and on her arrival there, the telegraph operator was brought into requisition, and love of such a burning nature flew so rapidly that it was supposed by the learned to have had something to do about bringing on the recent floods in Oregon. The widow left for Reno. Letters and telegrams still flew between the parties, when lo, and behold, the villain pursued her to S. F. The telegraph operators were kept busy for a couple of days, and the villain still pursued—to Reno. Things went swimmingly for a couple of days, and the widow for Carson City; two days later the villain still pursued her. Yesterday, while I was in Carson on official business, I met a fellow reporter, and what do you think he said? He said, "Dick, old boy, that widow who was supposed to be so wealthy, by those who did not know any better, has given the Astoria barber the 'dirty shake,' and picked up another lover, and the poor barber had his trunk in soak, but had sent to a relative who was supposed to be as wealthy as the widow, for money, but, alas! the widow came not." Tom, let us read the Prodigal Son, and then also in prayer.

WASHOE DICK.

MURDER, NOT SUICIDE

A Protest from Prominent Citizens of White Pine.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE EUREKA SENTINEL: This is a dispassionate view of the case of the late George P. McConkey. The verdict of the Coroner's Jury, composed of twelve intelligent men, tends conclusively to prove that the late George P. McConkey came to his death by the hand of an assassin while in the honest fulfillment of his duty as a public officer. His many warm personal friends are more than grieved at the disposition of some persons in the community to cast a slur upon the memory of a man known to have led an upright life both in public and private, and they take this means to express their feeling upon the matter.

The fact that Mr. McConkey's accounts were correct, and that his estate shows assets of about $6,000 over and above liabilities, proves conclusively to a fair mind that George P. McConkey came to his death in no other manner than that given by the Coroner's Jury. We consider that an order entered upon the books of the Board of County Commissioners on Jan. 9, 1883, alluding to a defilement on the part of Mr. McConkey, is untrue, unjust and uncalled for.

OUR INSANE ASYLUM.

It is Visited by Members of the Legislature—All are Greatly Pleased With What They Saw.

[Enterprise, 14th.]

Members of the Legislature and others, to the number of 150 persons, yesterday visited the State Insane Asylum at Reno. Many ladies were of the party. The train left Carson at 10 o'clock in the morning, and arrived at Reno about 11. On reaching Reno the Virginia and Truckee train was backed down the Central Pacific track till opposite the Asylum. The visitors were shown through every part of the institution, and were greatly pleased with all they saw; not a man found fault with anything that was seen. The patients were not at all disturbed by the presence of so many visitors. Many seemed greatly pleased, as they recognized among the visitors old friends and acquaintances, and all were quiet and orderly.

LUNCH

Was provided at the Asylum and was partaken of at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. At 2 o'clock the visitors went up to Reno and at 2:30 they left for Carson, where the train arrived at 4:30 o'clock in the evening.

The party were well treated in Reno. A number of Renosites procured buggies and carriages and took such of the visitors as they were acquainted with out through the town.

NO MORE RAGS AND HUNGER.

During lunch, several of the patients assisted in waiting upon those at table and appeared anxious that they should be well entertained. All the patients are well clothed and fed. They seem very well contented. Assistants about the institution say that when they were brought over from California many of the patients were sadly in need of clothing. Some of the women had but a single garment, a calico wrap. All were ravenously hungry, and for two or three days after their arrival they could hardly get enough to eat—they wanted to eat all the time.

THE CARE TAKEN OF THE GRAND TABLE-WARE.

In California, too, they were fed at a plain deal table without cloth of any kind, ate from tin pans and drank from tin cups. When Dr. Dawson provided for the table at the Nevada institution a nice white cloth, and such cups, saucers and other ware as would be seen on the tables of the same, some of the old California assistants thought it would not do. But it proved a good movement. The patients noticed the change at once, and as they chatted about it all wore smiling faces. They at once determined that they must be very careful of the fine new dishes, and so they have been to this day. They break no more dishes than would be broken by the same number of sane persons.

As regards the dishes and table-ware they watch one another pretty closely. When one happens to break a cup or dish the others promptly rebuke the offender and scold about such carelessness. It is also the same as regards the white cloth. Let one soil it and the others very quickly call attention to the fact.

THE MAN OF THE PEACOCK FEATHERS.

Among the patients is a man who wears peacock feathers in his hat, and who firmly believes that he is sole owner of the whole establishment. He looks after things very sharply, and is constantly going his rounds to see that his property is neither soiled nor destroyed. He very vigorously remonstrates with any who are caught scribbling upon the walls, throwing dirt upon the floors, or scratching any article of furniture. Yesterday he was very busy. He was anxious that all should show to advantage. He was about with a broom whisking away any bit of dirt he saw on the floor, or brushing down an imaginary cobweb from the corner of a ceiling.

A day or two ago a patient, while out in the yard, carelessly threw a stone, which broke a window. The man of the peacock feathers caught the offender in the act, and charged upon him at once, giving him a sound cuffing. "What!" cried he, "did I bring you over here from California, and put you in this fine place to have you destroy my property? I cannot allow it."

FARMING AND GARDENING.

A large area of ground has been cleared of sagebrush, plowed and prepared for cultivation. Next year they expect to not only raise all the vegetables that will be required, but also sufficient wheat to make all the flour that will be needed in the institution. The patients took much interest in the clearing and preparation of this ground, and they will expect to do great things next Spring when they begin gardening and farming. The man with the peacock plumes will then literally be in "high feather."

A Lady Wants to Know

The latest Parisian style of dress and bonnet; a new way to arrange the hair. Millions are expended for artificial appliances which only make conspicuous the fact that emaciation, nervous debility, and female weakness exist. Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" is sold under a positive guarantee. If used as directed, art can be dispensed with. It will overcome those diseases peculiar to females. By druggists.

Theater Last Night.

The Nevada Theater was comfortably crowded last night, and "Esmeralda" proved as delightful as was expected. The troupe came in on the west-bound train which threw the performances somewhat behind, but for all that there was but very little "cutting" and the performers did well. The play will be given at Carson to-night, and the Opera House is sure to be packed.
